Seen & Heard Around Murray

Now comes George Williams with an oddity which many people may not know about. The Sassafras Tree has three different kinds of leaves on it. There is the oval leaf, one that looks like a mitten, and another that looks like a double mitten.

We know of no other tree that has more than one kind of leaf on it. Oak Trees for instance have leaves all alike. So does the Wild Cherry and the Black Gum and a jillion others.

The sassafras has long been a favorite of ours. Thanks George. George says about the only way to get rid of them is move off and leave them.

One of the nicest looking leaves is on the Tulip Poplar and also the Ginkgo. The former looks as though the end were snipped off even and the latter is shaped like a fan.

Acorns are getting large now. Apparently a good crop.

Leaf Blight Hits Corn In Calloway

Southern Leaf Blight has attacked corn all over the south and has hit many fields in Calloway County according to Ted Howard, County Agent.

Howard said that the blight will affect the silage from corn to a great degree. If the corn has progressed before the blight struck, the corn itself may not be damaged too much, he said, but the foliage of the corn, in many cases, is just about ruined, he continued.

"We have had Southern Leaf Blight before," Howard said, "but it has never been so widespread before."

Howard reported the blight attacks the foliage and how much the corn will be damaged will depend on how early the blight appeared.

Some varieties seem to be more resistant than others, he continued, and a survey is underway in Calloway County as well as in many other areas in the south to see which varieties seem to stand up better against the blight.

In this manner, Howard continued, we will be better equipped to advise farmers on what varieties to plant, as for as the blight is concerned.

There is no spray or chemical which can be used to stop this blight, Howard said. About the only thing to do is to make a study and see which varieties can better withstand it.

Colonel Sanders Is Stepping Down

LOUISVILLE, Ky. UPI—Col. Harland Sanders, whose white goatee and black-string tie became synonymous with the "finger-lickin' good" Kentucky Fried Chicken he promoted, has stepped down as director of the corporation.

Sanders, 80, sold the franchising business he built from nothing for $2 million in 1964, but had remained on as a director of the corporation and goodwill ambassador for the firm.

The new owners, Kentucky Fried Chicken Corp., cited Sanders age and his outside business interests as the reason for his resignation.

Sanders is a majority stockholder in the Cape Coder System Inc., a seafood franchising firm which competes with Kentucky Fried Chicken's H. Salt Fish & Chips Division. A spokesman said a company rule forbids holding a franchise while working for the company.

Sanders will remain as an image maker for appearances at the opening of new stores, the company spokesman said.

Steve Hamrick Recommended To Conference

Senator Marlow Cook has recommended Steven W. Hamrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hamrick of 517 Whitnell Ave., to serve on the White House Conference on Youth next February.

Young Hamrick has recently served as an intern in the Senate and has also received a scholarship to Georgetown University.

Cook recommended Hamrick to serve on the legal rights and justice, poverty, and race relations committees of the conference.

Although Cook nominated several young Kentuckians to the conference, the ultimate choice for the delegates will rest with the White House.

House Completes Action On Bill Transforming Post Office Into Independent Agency Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Post Office is only a few days away from being removed from politics, the Congress and possibly the complete breakdown of its critics have been predicting for the past three years.

The House completed congressional action Thursday on an historic bill to transform the post office into an independent postal agency. President Nixon was expected to sign the bill into law next week.

One of the first results will be a raise in the cost of first-class mail from six to eight cents, probably by next January, and increases of one-third in the cost of other classes of mail. But Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, who will lose his cabinet status one year after the law takes effect, promised "better service for the American people."

The tall, spare Alabama businessman told reporters he had given "no thought" to taking on the job of directing the new "U.S. Postal Service." But he did not rule it out.

The reform bill gives the

Over 100 Golfers Entered In Meet

The Second Annual Shrine Invitational Golf Tournament will see over one hundred golfers take the field tomorrow morning at 8:00 o'clock at the Calloway Country Club. The event, sponsored by the Murray Shrine Club, will involve golfers from its far away as Louisville and Nashville and will include such celebrities as Lester and Leslie Wilburn and Smiley Wilson of country music fame. These country music stars along with nine of their associates will be in the event. Don Robinson, Tournament Manager, reported that all plans are complete for the tournament which will be held on Saturday and Sunday.

Shriners, Blue Lodge Masons and their guests will participate in the two day affair. Doris James, Shrine Potentate from Hopkinsville will be present for the occasion as well as Dundee Fulford of Madisonville, Past Potentate.

The tournament is limited to the first 120 persons to send in their entries.

A dinner and dance will be held on Saturday night following the first day's play. Numerous prizes in silver and golf equipment will be presented on Sunday afternoon.

This is the second year for the tournament and as late entries come in, it appears that the field will be nearly 100 per cent greater than it was the first year. Approximately 60 golfers enjoyed last year's play and by this morning it appeared that approximately twice that number will tee off tomorrow.

Joe Dean Watkins is president of the Murray Shrine Club and Milton Jones, vice-president. Don Robinson heads the committee in charge of the tournament.

Robinson said this morning that he still has openings for several more golfers and anyone interested should contact him at once. The Saturday pairings are made as requested when possible with Sunday pairings being made according to flights and scores.

The Murray Shrine Club invitational tournament bids to be one of the outstanding Shrine events in the Ritzpah Temple area.

Following are the tee off times as released by Robinson, with all tee offs from the number one tee. 8:00—Guy Spann, Cedris Benson, Earl Steele, A. C. Sanders.

8:10—Al Lindsey, Graves Morris, Bobby Fike, Roy Cothran.

Gore, Brock, Hooker And Dunn Win Tennessee Vote

By DUREN CHEEK
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Democratic Sen. Albert Gore, the controversial "Grey Fox" of Tennessee politics, and Republican Rep. William Brock have set up the first voting test of President Nixon's popularity in the South since the presidential election.

The silvery-haired Gore, 62 who says he'll be the "No. 1 target" when the White House "Dove" hunting this fall, and Brock, 39, a strong backer of the Nixon administration, won nomination to the Senate in their parties' primaries Thursday. They'll clash in the general election in November.

Gore, seeking his fourth term in the Senate, defeated Hudley Crockett, a former administrative aide to Gov. Buford Elling-ton, and two political unknowns, Herman Frey and Stafford Andrews.

And Brock, the millionaire candyman who gave up an almost certain fifth term in congress to seek Gore's seat, easily turned back former cowboy star Tex Ritter and J. D. Boles.

HAM SHOW SPOTLIGHTS QUALITY AND TRADITION
I hope this year's Kentucky
Country Ham Show will again have good representation from ham processors throughout the State.

Entries in this annual event held at the Kentucky State Fair should have already been made.
The show is open to Kentucky exhibitors only, with the Grand Champion receiving a "Pig Skin Banner" and a $25 prize.

As in past years, the Grand Champion will be auctioned off at the annual Kentucky Country
Ham breakfast which will be held Wednesday, August 26; starting at 8:00 a.m. at the Fairgrounds.

Points considered in judging
the hams are conformation, workmanship, meatiness, color, aroma, and uniformity. This means that the four hams being shown as an entry should be as much alike as possible.

This will be the seventh year for the show, one of the more popular ones at the State Fair. It was started as an educational tool for ham processors in quality control methods and merchandising techniques.

The ham show is only one of several which the Department of Agriculture sponsors, coordinates or supervises. As Commissioner I serve on the State Fair Board, and will be actively engaged in program activities
during the run of the Fair—August 20-29, as will a number of Department staff members.

The State Fair is a major show case for Kentucky agriculture and many other industries in the State. This, along with its many educational and entertainment features, makes the Kentucky State Fair a must for all who can attend.

AIR MERGER ASKED

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A hearing examiner has told the Civil Aeronautics Board it should approve the proposed merger of Northwest Orient and Northeast Airlines into a system stretching from Tokyo to Maine. Northeast has lost money 13 of the last 14 years while Northwest is one of the nation's most profitable airlines, with a net income of $50 million last year.

Poetically Speaking

BY TOM PERKINS

To Don Walker

Meet, if you will
A young man
Whose skilled fingers
touch two thousand years
With a sweep to now.

Twenty four summer's wit tempered by Twenty four winter's stern
Reflective hollow hope.

I tell ya'll, "I speak quietly"
And he does, "Loudly."

Blue quiet eyes shaded
By fall's sober flame
A proper combination for
The mirrored personality.

Fall son of Virginia
No escalator rider he Muscles flex in climbing legs
And what better to say
Each driven by determination.

JACKSON'S INFANTRY AT CEDAR MOUNTAIN

Jackson's infantry
Steps off measured paces,
Bayonets fixed,
Forward, at the walk.
Four grey rows
As far as the eye can see.
Battered drumbeats
Shuffle rhythm.
Bayonets glint,
Boots in unison.
Artillery barrage
Begins, hell-bombs rain.
Grey stone fence looms blue,
Now fires in answer.
Grey lines thin
But do not falter.
Forward, quick step;
Now run and fire.
Blue bars wave
On blood red field.

The Cost of Coming and Going

Dad has been wondering lately why it cost so much to come and go. It's dry right now, and dad has been doing some deep thinking. Only problem is, he can't get beyond the beginning and the end. In the beginning babies are born and everybody is happy and paying. The doctor, hospital, and baby bottle producers get well paid. The aunts, uncles, relatives and friends all pitch in and give the baby a fine welcome with gifts that cost a lot of money.
Only problem dad sees is that the baby doesn't know what everybody is spending on him, and by the time he knows what a toy is, his gifts are all broken and lost.

On the other end is the funeral. Finest thing you ever saw, a funeral. Big home with plenty of rooms and carpet and flower smell, and a welcome for all, is had at a funeral home. And the family is asked, "How well do you want the deceased put away."
And the family thinks about it and says, "Let's spend much on him so everyone can see." They buy flowers and suits and memories and time payments. Only problem dad sees is that the dead doesn't know what everyone is spending on him.

Dad said he guessed coming and going in style was alright, but it's the living that bothers him. I asked dad, "Why does a man come and go like he's rich, and live all his life like he's poor." And dad said, "Shut up," because he hasn't figured that out yet.

I'm little, and I know that I'd rather come and go poor, but live in style.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Friday, Aug. 7, the 219th day of 1970 with 146 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.
The morning stars are Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury,
Venus and Jupiter.

On this date in history:
In 1872 the Order of the Purple Heart was established by George Washington.

In 1942 marines launched America's first offensive in World War II by landing on Guadalcanal.

In 1962 Mrs. John F. Kennedy became the first president's wife to give birth in the White House since the days of Grover Cleveland. Patrick Bouvier died
two days later.

In 1964 Turkish planes attacked Cyprus for the first time after sharp fighting had broken out with Greece.

A thought for the day: British Humorist Patrick Herbert said,
"We shall not produce equality by turning everything upside down."

Local Holsteins Get Two E Designations

W. D. McCuiston, Murray,

Kentucky, has been notified by Holstein-Friesian Association of America that two Registered Holstein cows in his herd have received an "E" designation for body type conformation.

On the basis of their again
being classified "Excellent",
Burke Elsie 5410084 and Inka Dean Dolly 6027968 have been awarded 2E designations.

This phase of the Holstein Association's herd improvement service provides special recognition for "Excellent" cows that continue to score "Excellent" as they grow older. A cow may be designated 2, 3, or 4E according to her history of previous "Excellent" classifications within specified age brackets.

Among the 87,200 Registered Holsteins scored for body type last year, less than two per cent attained "Excellent" status.

Thus, the achievement of multiple "E" designation makes the individual cow a more valuable asset for herd improvement purposes in the dairyman's breeding program.

Valuable blood

Detroit man to be paid $1500 a quart for rare type

DETROIT (UPI)—A 34-year-old assembly line worker expects to make $12,000 in the next year by selling his rare blood at $1500 a quart.

Joe Thomas begins giving his blood, which has the nation's highest known concentration of a rare blood antibody called Anti-Lewis B, to a national biological supply firm next week, the Detroit News said in a copyrighted story.

Anti-Lewis B is a blood protein which has major uses in tracking down bad reactions to blood transfusions and in human genetics research.

"IT'S HARD to believe. You've an average working man making a living and then someone tells you you can lie down for a few hours, give some blood and make $12,000 a year," Thomas was quoted as saying.

"But I've signed the contract, so I guess it's true. I appreciate the money but I really like the idea of the blood being used rather than misused. I've been helped by a lot of people in my life but I've never been in a position to help too many other people," Thomas said.

Thomas' signing of the contract with a division of American Hospital Supply Co. of Miami, Fla., ends a contest between a Red Cross official and professional blood procurers.

DR. FRANK ELLIS, now head of the Southeast Michigan Red Cross blood program, spotted the antibody during a test of Thomas' blood seven years ago at Wayne County General Hospital.

"Joe's was the best Anti-Lewis B serum to show up in 20 years," Ellis
said.

After he became aware private suppliers were looking for Thomas, Ellis helped set up a plan in the last eight months in which Thomas can sell his blood and avoid middlemen.

Rules for plasma donors urged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A committee of scientists formed by the National Research Council says more stringent rules should be imposed to protect the health of people who sell their blood plasma for medical use.

The committee said donors who participate in "plasmapheresis" programs are sometimes victimized by careless laboratory practices, or suffer because they sell their plasma too often. It also recommended that use of prison inmates for such programs be discouraged.

Plasmapheresis is a process in which whole blood is withdrawn from the donor and separated into its liquid and "formed" elements — red and white blood cells and platelets. Plasma, making up about 55 per cent of whole blood, is retained by the laboratory.
The "formed elements" are returned to the donor, making it possible for a person to make frequent contributions without diminution of his red blood cells.

Businessmen Favor Transfer Of Labor Cases From NLRB To Courts

Editor's Note: When Congress
created the National Labor Relations Board in 1935 it conferred the power to make regulations (based on the law)

and to decide labor-management disputes in quasi-judicial fashion.
Critics since have contended it has become a policy-making body, rewriting the law and rendering biased decisions favoring unions. Senator John Tower of Texas is author of a bill, S. 3671, which would transfer jurisdiction over unfair labor practice cases from the NLRB to U.S. District Courts. A poll by the National Federation of Independent Business shows 82 percent of the nation's business owners favor this legislation, only 11 percent oppose the bill and 7 percent are undecided.) Kangaroos are fine in their place, but they have no place in court proceedings.

If an employer is to be tried for unfair labor practices, it should be before a regular court, not a politically-appointed board with an alleged reputation of pro-union bias.

This is the sentiment of the nation's independent business proprietors, as revealed by a poll on a Congressional bill which would transfer the power to try labor-management cases from the National Labor Relations Board to U.S. District Courts.

The legislation by Senator John Tower of Texas won acceptance from 82 percent of the businessmen queried by the National Federation of Independent Business, while 11 percent expressed disapproval and 7 percent withheld their opinion.

Respondents in Kentucky vote
79 percent for the legislation, percent undecided.

Senator Tower charges that the 35-year "experiment" of mixing prosecution, legislative, executive and quasi-judicial powers in the same agency has not been a success and that Congress should undo its mistake, and return labor-
management cases to U.S.
District Courts.

Businessmen have contended
for years that the National Labor Relations Board has used its regulatory and judicial powers to strengthen the hand of unions.
Within the framework of labor laws passed by Congress, it is charged, the politically-appointed board has increasingly liberalized rules governing union recognition, collective bargaining and union "rights", while tightening rules affecting management.

Last year, in a poll by the National Federation of Independent Business, the same business proprietors voted 82 percent in favor of a proposed House investigation of the NLRB and charges of union favoritism.

Senator Tower summarizes the charges against the Labor Relations Board, as follows "It has ignored the intent of Congress. It has become a policy-

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Love Thy Neighbor

In half a dozen places, the Bible tells us to "love thy neighbor." But it may be difficult to apply this general rule to the specific people who live next door.
To what extent does the law insist on a "good neighbor policy?"
Under traditional legal rules,
a home owner owed very little regard for his neighbor's sen-sibilities. He could do almost anything he pleased, so long as he did not actually intrude upon his neighbor's property.

In one early case, a home owner dug such a deep excavation near the boundary line that his neighbor's house had to be abandoned as unsafe. Yet, even though he had acted with malice aforethought, a court held him not liable for ruining the neighbor's house.

And in another case, a court refused to condemn an enormous "spite fence," carefully designed to shut out light and air from the people next door. The judge said "it would be intolerable to allow a man's neighbors to question his motives."

But in recent years, as people began living closer together, the attitude of the law has changed.
Today the right to excavate is limited by considerations of safety and fair play. Almost everywhere, the spite fence is for-bidden. As one court put it:
"No one ought to have the legal right to make a malicious use of his property for no benefit to himself, but merely to injure his fellow man."

Of course, moderate annoyances—even if unneighborly—are still legal. A home owner may still be reasonably noisy, even if the neighbors like it quiet. He may still paint his house a color that the neighbors consider frightful.

In one case, a man turned a deaf ear to a neighbor's complaint about his four large maple trees. It seems the trees kept the neighbor's house in almost constant shade.

But after a court hearing, the judge ruled that the neighbor had no legal grounds for complaint. This was the kind of "wrong," said the judge, for which the law provides no remedy.

Ex-Reliever Wins Three Straight For Pittsburgh

By FRANK DE GEORGES
UPI Sports Writer

Most men are promoted when they do a good job. But with Bruce Dal Canton of the Pittsburgh Pirates it's just the opposite.

Normally a reliever, Dal Canton has been placed in the starting rotation in recent days to ease the strain on a pitching staff hobbled by injuries.

The 28-year-old right-hander has responded by winning three straight games. Thursday night he went the route for the first time as he beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. The Pirates won the opener, 4-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Dock Ellis. The sweep increased their lead to 2½ games in the National League East.

Back To Bull Pen

The reward for Dal Canton's fine performances? The bullpen, according to Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh. "Bruce will get one more start," says Murtaugh. "Then who knows what will happen. Steve Blass, who has been on the disabled list with arm trouble, will throw 15 minutes of batting practice tomorrow and if the doctor says he's okay, then he's back in the starting rotation."

Dal Canton, who gave up only six hits as he notched his seventh victory, accepts his role philosophically: "If I can help in the bullpen, that's where I belong. Everybody is pitching in now and we're going good."

In other National League action, San Francisco belted Cincinnati 9-3, Chicago topped Montreal 4-2, St. Louis blanked New York 3-0, Houston topped San Diego 8-6 and Atlanta rapped Los Angeles 4-1.

AL Games

In the American League, Cleveland shut out Baltimore 4-0 in the first game of a doubleheader but lost the nightcap 7-1; Detroit and New York split a pair, with the Tigers winning the first game 2-1, and the Yankees bouncing back 7-5. Washington beat Boston 5-2, Kansas City whipped Oakland 5-3, Minnesota edged California 2-1, and Chicago belted Milwaukee 7-3.

Al Oliver hit a two-run double in the first game and a two-run triple in the second game to spark the Pittsburgh attack. Willie Stargell slugged his 21st homer in the opener as Ellis boosted his record to 12-8.

Three-run homers by San Francisco's Willie McCovey and Frank Johnson staked Frank Reberger to a 7-0 lead in the first inning as the former reliever went the distance for the first time in his major league career. Reberger, now 4-4, was touched for 10 hits by the Reds, including Tony Perez's 32nd homer.

Santo: 5-for-5

Chicago's Ron Santo went 4 for 4 including his 15th homer of the year to support Ken Holtzman's three-hitter. Holtzman, bidding for the second no-hitter of his career, did not give up a hit in seven innings until Montreal's John Boccabella singled in the eighth. Santo collected two singles and a double in addition to the homer.

Run-scoring singles by Richie Allen and Mike Shannon in the fourth inning and Nelson Briles' seven-hit pitching gave the Cardinals the victory over New York. The loss snapped Tom Seaver's nine-game winning streak and brought his record to 16-6.

Houston collected a club record of eight doubles—two each by Jesus Alou, Bob Watson and Denis Menke—to whip the Padres. Cesar Cedeño and Doug Rader collected the other two baggers. Nate Colbert hit his 24th homer—a two-run shot—for San Diego.

Felix Millan went 5-for-5—a pair of doubles and three singles—and drove in a run for the Braves. Hoyt Wilhelm went 3-2-3 in his first start since Nash's 11th victory.

There Are Some Quarterbacks Who Want To Play Pro Football

By United Press International
Believe it or not, there are some quarterbacks who want to play pro football this year.

One who wants to very badly is Greg Cook of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Cook was the rookie of the year in the American Football League last season but saw limited action the second half of the campaign because of a sore arm. The sore arm has been acting up again, but doctors have informed coach Paul Brown that the trouble will go away gradually.

Cook can't wait to get into action. The Bengals open their exhibition schedule Saturday night at home in the new Riverfront Stadium and Cook is excited about it.

More Anxious Than Rookies
"I've gotta play in that first game in the stadium," said Cook, who attended college in Cincinnati. Brown plans to start Sam Wyche at quarterback but he said that Cook would see some action.

One Bengals' player who won't get into the game, however, is No. 1 draft choice Mike Reid. Reid has a twisted knee and will be replaced by another rookie, Bill Trout.

The Bengals also placed veteran defensive back Charlie King on waivers Thursday. King was one of the original 40 players who made up the Bengals' squad in the allocation draft.

Another Retiree

In other developments, tackle Ernie Ruple left the Pittsburgh Steelers' training camp, saying he was quitting football because he had lost interest in it. Ruple, 28, was beginning his third season with the Steelers.

Veteran place-kicker Tommy Davis of the San Francisco 49ers became a free agent when he was placed on waivers and no team claimed him.

Davis, 35, is free now to make his own deal with any club. He holds the National Football League record 234 consecutive points after touchdown and has average 44.7 yards per punt during his career.

Donn Brumm, veteran defensive end for the St. Louis Cardinals, was released after he failed the club's physical examination. Brumm was the second Cardinal veteran to be released in as many days for failing to pass the physical. Ken Gray, a 12-year-veteran guard, was let go Wednesday.

Jacque MacKinnon, a tight end acquired by the Green Bay Packers during the off-season, announced his retirement. MacKinnon, 31, told coach Phil Bengtson that he just did not feel like playing football anymore.

The Denver Broncos cut offensive tackle Bob Hunsperger from the squad. Hunsperger, a free agent, played in the military but had no college experience.

Detroit And New York In Battle For Second

By NEIL HERSHBERG
UPI Sports Writer

There still is a race in the American League's East Division—for second place.

With the Baltimore Orioles nesting comfortably in first place, the Detroit Tigers and the New York Yankees are the two combatants for runner-up.

The Tigers invaded Yankee Stadium Thursday night, both "contenders" met for a twilight doubleheader.

Tiger Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly scored Mickey Stanley with the winning run in the opener as Mike Killebrew outduelled Mel Stottlemyre in a 2-1 contest.

But Yankee Jerry Kenney scored the winning run as pinch-hitter Thurman Munson was grounding into a double play to give New York a 7-5 victory over the Tigers and a split of the twinbill.

Tigers-Yanks Race Close
The Tigers, considered by many to be the favorite for the division championship, were dealt a severe setback when Homers by Amos Otis and Bob Oliver highlighted a five-run seventh inning and allowed the Royals to score a come-from-behind victory.

Carlos May's run-scoring single ignited a five-run fifth inning rally that pulled the White Sox out of the American League's West division cellar for the first time in a month.

Ed Maher Plans To Go Straight

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Ed Maher has played in 750 consecutive basketball games that were fixed and lost. Now he hopes to go straight.

For three years, he barnstormed with teams like the Washington Generals, Atlantic City Sea Gulls, New Jersey Reds and New York Nationals. Only the names changed.

Almost every night, in small towns and big cities across America and in 37 foreign countries, Maher's teams played the Harlem Globetrotters. The Globetrotters won every time.

"It's a show and you don't really look at it as a matter of winning," Maher says. "We play almost every day of the week, and you get to go to a lot of places. You don't feel foolish because the Globetrotters know you're working with them, not against them."

At 27, a late age to start a new career in sports, Maher hopes to make it with the American Basketball Association's Pittsburgh Condors, a team which changes its name almost as much as the Globetrotters' stooges.

Last month the Condors were the Pioneers and the month before that they were the Pipers, but they are trying to create a new image now with the new name and a rookie camp attended by 35 hopefuls.

Unhappiness Is A Thing Called Joe

By GARY KALE
UPI Sports Writer

Unhappiness is just a thing called Joe.

That's the general feeling in the pro football training camps of the New York Jets and the Minnesota Vikings these days.

The Jets' controversial quarterback, Joe Namath, and the Vikings' outspoken signal-caller, Joe Kapp, haven't reported to camp yet and they are causing their teams problems.

One Joe's Unwilling... Namath's many outside interests have made him lose interest in football while Kapp is not satisfied with the money the Vikings wish to pay him for the 1970 season.

The Jets, therefore, will visit Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night for a preseason game with the Buffalo Bills, without Namath, and the Vikings will take on the New Orleans Saints at the Hall of Fame Game in Canton, Ohio, minus Kapp.

Kapps, in fact, has stated his days with the Vikings are over. ...Other Wants Enriching... He played out his option last season and as such is a free agent. The Vikings don't seem too concerned over the 32-year-old quarterback's take-it-or-leave-it demands for a $1.25 million, five-year deal. They'll go along with veterans Gary Cuozzo and Bob Lee and test Bill Cappelman from Florida State against the Saints.

Al Woodall is expected to play most of the way for the Jets in their game at Birmingham.

This was a hurry-up-and-get-ready week for NFL veterans who were uncertain last Sunday about this weekend's exhibition action. But the owners and Players Association settled their differences and Saturday night's 10-game schedule became a reality.

In other games, Kansas City, the world champions, receive some professional opposition after beating the College All-Stars as they take on the Lions at Detroit. Cleveland is at Los Angeles, Dallas at San Diego, Washington at Cincinnati, Chicago at Houston, the New York Giants at Green Bay, Baltimore at Oakland and Miami against Pittsburgh in Jacksonville, Fla.

Lombardi Sub Is Austin
The Washington Redskins have a substitute head coach for football's first game in Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium. Vince Lombardi is ailing and Bill Austin, former Pittsburgh Steeler Mentor, will direct the Skins.

Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens of Oklahoma bids for a Detroit running back job and has a tough nut to crack in the champion Chiefs. Len Dawson completed 17 of 21 passes against the All-Stars, but this time runs into the Lions' defensive stoutness, Lem Barney, who intercepted eight passes last season.

San Diego meets Dallas for the first time, but for the first time in 10 years the chargers will be without wide receiver Lance Alworth, who announced his retirement earlier this week after failing to achieve his contract goal.

Don Shula makes his coaching debut with Miami and runs into Pittsburgh's No. 1 draft pick, Terry Bradshaw. Paul Warfield is another NFLer making his debut with the Dolphins. The wide receiver and quarterback Bob Griese could provide one of the league's better passing combinations.

OPEN TENNIS STARS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Defending champion Rod Laver and Wimbledon titlist John Newcombe head a list of 23 professionals scheduled to play in the men's singles of the $160,000 U.S. Open tennis championship at Forest Hills, N.Y., Sept. 2-13.

Three leading U.S. Davis Cup players—Arthur Ashe, Stan Smith and Cliff Richey—also entered in the 96-man field.

Black bears may live as long as 30 years in the wild.

Regret won't solve problems of living

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Altho this is terribly involved, I'll try to make it brief. I am married and have a child a year old. At the time I became pregnant I had four promiscuous affairs going at the same time. I told Vic (not his real name) we had to get married because he was the one I knew would make the best provider. (None of the men knew about the others.)

Abby, Vic has been a wonderful husband and father and I've grown to love him very much. Now, my problem: I've always had the feeling that he wasn't the father. This was confirmed recently when I found out Vic's blood type and also my child's.

I could never hurt my husband by telling him the truth, but this guilt is destroying me. It is becoming harder and harder to live with this on my conscience. I am the luckiest woman in the world, and should be the happiest, but I am miserable. What do you suggest?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Professional counseling. You'll probably learn that you are "miserable" because you feel you aren't entitled to so much happiness, and deserve to be punished instead. But since "fate" has not punished you, you are determined to punish yourself by not permitting yourself to enjoy your good fortune.

If your counseling is successful, you will then learn that regret is the cancer of life, and there is nothing you can do about your past.

You have wisely rejected the idea of "confessing all" to your husband. Such a confession would only punish HIM and increase your feeling of worthlessness.

I suggest that you do everything within your power to build your self-esteem. Try hard to be a first class wife and mother so that you can feel deserving of your good fortune. I think you can do it. Please try. God bless.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, age 57, lives alone and leads a very active social life. She has a good job with 30 days vacation each year, which she spends on trips to various places with an extremely likable man she has known for a long time.

My children are growing up, and Mom doesn't pull any punches about where she goes, with whom and so forth.

How do you teach children right from wrong when "Granny" is so open about this relationship?

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your children are exposed to a grand-mother who obviously lives her own life in her own way and isn't ashamed of it. If this is "wrong" her "sin" is indiscretion, and your children will not learn out soon enough. There is nothing you can do about it. If they think less of Granny because she vacations with a man who isn't her husband, Granny will have to take the mark-down, which will be Granny's problem.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, attempting to run an eight-cabin motel, pay off the mortgage, taxes, insurance, and food and living costs from it's income. I have no hired help and must do most of the repairs myself, even crawling on the roof with tar sealer searching for those elusive leaks.

I must keep my rates low to compete with the luxury credit card trade.

My problem is that so many "guests" decide to carry away my property that I am being driven out of business. Will you help me, Abby, and print the following for travelers:

"I don't mind your using my towels to wipe off your windshield—but please leave the towel—don't toss it in your car. Or if you use my wash cloths to wipe off your kids' hands and faces en route, please leave a quarter to replace the cloth because that's what it costs me. And when you accidentally carry-off a key, drop it into any mailbox. I'll gladly pay for its return. It's a lot cheaper than having new keys made."

"And as for you gals who take coffee pots, dishes, silver and pillows—have a heart! I'm sure you have much better at home."

"I don't want to start charging deposits against the return of such items, neither do I want to turn your license number into the motel black list."

"After you've gone and I go to clean your cabin and check my pilferage loss it makes me sick to realize that I've actually lost money on you. I work so hard. Think about it next time, will you?"

DISMAY ON CREDIT
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Beverly Shirley Jr. has filed a $9,000 damage suit against an automobile dealer who allegedly repossessed his car because he failed to pay $3.67 in "late charges" at the end of three years of car payments.

The suit said Shirley was not notified that the car was about to be seized when it disappeared three weeks after he made what he thought was his final payment.

WHEN BABY FEEDS HIMSELF—When a baby begins to teethe he frequently refuses to eat solid foods. Often milk alone doesn't satisfy his hunger for long and being hungry he becomes irritable. One solution might be to offer warm, strained food from a wide-lipped, unbreakable small pitcher. Baby will discover that chewing on the lip of the pitcher is soothing and at the same time enough food is swallowed to satisfy his stomach. — Irma Hamilton, Courthouse, Mayfield, Ky. 42066 Phone-247-2334

The family medicine chest if often the family catch-all. Medicine chests should be cleaned out at least every six months for safety's sake as well as good housekeeping. First, take everything out, then discard empty bottles, noncurrent prescriptions, old razor blades. Clean and disinfect shelves using a cellulose sponge and pine oil cleaner—wipe shelves dry and repack usable items only.

Dressing well requires neither a large wardrobe nor an expensive one. The secret lies in careful planning. Fashion gals coordinate colors—2, 3, or 5—and a few well chosen accessories that can be worn with lots of outfits. They mix and match to make a few garments look like many. The color coordinates are often copies from a print or a plaid. Keep color swatches in your purse; it simplifies shopping and keeps one from getting off the well coordinated track.

When meat is spoiled there is usually a general change in the quality of the meat. This includes loss of freshness and a color change. An off-odor will develop and if the meat has been kept in an unopened package, a slippery surface may develop. If an off-odor has developed, probably the best rule is "When in doubt, throw it out." — Patricia Everett, Courthouse, Benton, Ky. 42050 Phone 527-6601

TV CAMEOS: Charles Nelson Reilly

Reilly Revels in California Now

By MEL HEIMER

CHARLES NELSON REILLY, the elegant hysteric who has brightened "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" and any number of Dean Martin shows, is back from spring in London, where he starred in the tapings of this summer's coming "Dean Martin Presents the Goldiggers in London" show. He willingly concedes British TV has many an edge on its American counterpart — better lighting, sharper pictures, more realistic color—but now he is returning to his beloved California, blissfully.

The nervously witty Reilly, who came to light several theatrical seasons back in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," is a more fervent West Coast fan than the natives. "I adore it," he says happily. "It took me 38 years to get out there and I feel as if I've come home."

FOR X number of years, after he left his native Hartford, Conn., Charles Nelson was on and off Broadway but, he says with eloquent finality, that period is over. His stage hits, his Tony Award, his New York penthouse — they're all behind him. "During the taping of one of the 'Mrs. Muir' shows in California," he says with awe, "Hope Lange reached out of a car one day and picked a lemon from a tree—in January. If you tried that on Lexington Avenue, you'd be killed."

MR. REILLY has come a long, luxurious way since he and David Hedison, the intrepid captain of "Voyage Beneath the Sea," gave their blood in a little Manhattan (Columbus Ave.) hole in the wall, to raise money for food. "Now," he says, like Mac West holding court, "David and I BOTH have homes with swimming pools, and we employ the same poolman to keep them in shape."

"Matter of fact, I went to a party at David's home and he had—would you believe—valet parking for the guests! I just drove up and told the attendant, 'Park it slowly, and let me watch."

The switch to Los Angeles—"I don't like cities any more and I don't know what L.A. is, but I doubt it's a city"—agrees totally with Charles. He was nominated for an Emmy for "Mrs. Muir" but lost to Michael Constantine of "Room 222." And he does game-show guest appearances like mad. "It's my Barbara Britton period," he explains.

ALREADY signed for at least a dozen of next winter's Martin shows, he says working with Dino is fascinating—and a little bewildering, since he usually finds he has to throw the script out the window. "But I just sit around and watch or participate in the casualness and say to myself, 'What a wonderful way to make a dollar!'" he

Television notes

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another star slated for the 1971-72 season on NBC is James Garner, who achieved prominence in the "Maverick" television series of the late 1950s and went on to movie prestige. Garner will be seen in a one-hour series whose format has not yet been determined. Meanwhile, more movies.

Sept. 20 is the starting date for "The Tim Conway Comedy Hour" that will be a 10 p.m. Sunday feature on CBS. The variety format should be more successful for this comedian than was his recently futile half-hour situation comedy skits.

The coming season will be the sixth for ABC's "The FBI" Sunday hours. Efrim Zimbalist Jr., Philip Abbott and William Reynolds continue as the top guys.

NBC's "World Premiere" program in the new season will make a two-part out of the best-selling novel, "Vanished," by Fletcher Knebel. There will be two two-hour segments on consecutive nights. The novel deals with the disappearance of a top adviser to a U.S. president.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Veteran Broderick Crawford remembers the long-ago "Highway Patrol" series? — heads the cast of "The Interns," new one-hour weekly drama skits that CBS will introduce Sept. 18. Other regulars are Stephen Brooks, Christopher Stone, Hal Frederick, Sandra Smith, Mike Farrell and Elaine Giftos.

Steve Allen, having wound up two years of syndicated shows for Filmways, will start another series for syndication by Vikoa Entertainment Corp.

"The Partridge Family," half-hour musical comedy series destined for ABC in the fall, stars singing actress Shirley Jones. Her stepson, David Cassidy, will play her son on the program. The series deals with the widowed mother of five and how the family gains fame as a musical group.

James Stewart's bow as a television regular will be made during the 1971-72 season for NBC. He will star in a half-hour situation comedy series not yet fully defined.

CBS will mark the 200th anniversary of the birth of composer Ludwig von Beethoven with a 90-minute special to be aired early next winter. Leonard Bernstein will conduct the Vienna Philharmonic, the Vienna State Opera chorus and soloists in the all-Beethoven program.

One of the "NBC Children's Theater" specials for the fall will be "Pets Allowed," featuring domesticated animals of all sorts. Anyone who has an extraordinary pet he would like to suggest for the program should write and send photographs to "Pets Allowed," room 409, National Broadcasting Company, New York City.

Luring the foreigner

SINGAPORE (UPI) — There are two tested ways to attract foreigners to Singapore, according to Edward Barnett, Dean of Hawaii University's School of Travel Industry.

He said they were to urge a novelist to write a book featuring Singapore and to encourage movie to film Singapore as the theme. Barnett said Hong Kong was made famous by Han Suyin's "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing."

Traveling food bill

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Travelers spend $30 billion a year on meals away from home, or 25 per cent of the American food budget, says Stewart Bainum, president of Quality Courts Motels. The figure is expected to rise at the rate of 8 per cent annually and reach $50 billion by 1975.

Gift package

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans traveling to Finland this year can get a gift certificate from local travel agents with which they will receive 16 presents in a "Helsinki Welcome Package."

The give-away items include a sauna at the Kalastajatorppa Hotel, lunch at the Dipoli restaurant, a boat ride, admission to a Finnish baseball game and 12 other treats.

Cutting Open Golf Balls: Eye Hazard For Children

Don't let children play or experiment with golf balls: the result just could be a severe eye injury.

That's the word from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, which has received a number of reports of eye injuries caused by golf balls exploding when children cut them open to "see what's inside."

The danger lies in the ball's liquid core, which is under pressure of up to 2,500 pounds per square inch and can easily explode if pierced or cut into. An additional hazard exists from the chemicals which are used to make up the cores of several brands of golf balls. The substance used for ball cores varies with the manufacturer, and the list of possible ingredients, according to information received by the Society, includes sulfuric acid, barium salts, zinc sulfide, silicone, gelatin, corn syrup, ethylene glycol, lead oxide paste, mineral oil, sodium hydroxide, castor oil and water.

"Only recently," reports Wilfred D. David, M.D., the Society's executive director, "we were apprised of a case in which an Oklahoma City fourth-grader was sprayed in the face with the liquid chemical from the core of a golf ball he had punctured. In this instance, the child was fortunate - two of his classmates had the foresight to bathe his eyes while another went for help, with the result that they boy suffered only minor eye burns. Other children engaged in similar 'experiments' have not been as lucky."

The Society urges that golf balls be kept on the fairway - and out of the hands of youngsters.

ALIBI REJECTED

Nancy Atchison told police that because her car's brakes failed she hit the rear fender of another car, continued for a block and sideswiped a tree, traveled another block, made a left turn, hit a stop sign and finally was halted by a brick wall at a cleaning store.

Police gave her a ticket Wednesday for leaving the scene of an accident.

The Basic Side

IT'S that time again...the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheateas, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

CAN YOUR HOME ESCAPE??

Know the enemy
GET RID OF PESTS
Swat 'em... stomp 'em... spray 'em—and still the "ugh" insects can be found in the cleanest households.

Don't confuse termites with flying ants. Termites have two sets of brittle, white wings of equal size. Ant bodies have three segments.

FOR FREE INSPECTION
Termites live in colonies in the soil. Each colony can contain as many as 100,000 termites. There can be hundreds of colonies around your house.

The termite's food is wood. Unfortunately, the nearest source is often your house.

Gore, Brock . .

ville won the Democratic nomination in a six-man race, and Dr. Winfield Dunn, a Memphis dentist, narrowly beat Nashville industrialist Maxey Jarman in the GOP battle.

Ellington, the incumbent governor, is prohibited by law from succeeding himself.

With 2,317 of the state's 2,495 precincts reporting, Gore had 248,760 votes to 219,315 for Crockett. Brock led Ritter 161,404 to 48,721 with Boles a distant third at 4,515.

Hooker had 241,696 votes to 180,008 for Stan Snodgrass, his nearest opponent, and Dunn held a 75,593 to 66,531 edge over Jarman.

Gore, whose liberal, by Southern standards, viewpoints on many issues has made him a controversial figure in Tennessee—and the South—is a critic of U. S. policy in Vietnam. And he raised the ire of many of his constituents by voting against President Nixon's two Southern appointees to the U. S. Supreme Court — Clement Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell.

During the primary campaign, Gore did not explain his stand on such issues, saying only — "Sometimes things appear unpopular at first, but later prove to be the right thing."

Brock, an executive of the Brock Candy Co., concentrated his attacks on Gore's controversial stands and largely ignored Ritter and Boles, his immediate opponents.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has announced plans to speak in Memphis next month and there is speculation that President Nixon also might visit the state to boost Brock's candidacy.

weeks from today. What happened to the summer.

We understand the school will be so crowded this year there is a possibility that study halls or classes will have to be held on the stage in the auditorium and also in the lobby of the building. An expansion of this school is greatly needed. Either that or the whole system should be merged with the city system to give space for the kids.

We can't think of a better time to merge than now with a new high school being constructed on Doran Road.

It is time too for the new school tax in the county so the two proposed county elementary school could be built. As the city of Murray grows outward, the need for these two schools will be more keenly felt. There are two avenues for the folks in the subdivisions to take, either petition to have their areas brought into the city school district, or construct new county schools closer to the city. The former method dries up the county district funds.

We are going to have to face these problems realistically sooner or later and perhaps forget about the sentimentality involved.

Computer Proving Tremendous Boon To Travel Reservation Business

By MICHAEL FOSTER

Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper
THE COMPUTER, which has revolutionized American business and is starting to make radical changes in our personal lives, too, also is working miracles in the booming travel reservation business, which has quintupled to over $250 million gross in a brief five years.

As an example, William G. Lucas, board chairman of Telemax Corporation, points to Tom Jones and his missus. They want to travel to Los Angeles for 10 days, and because quarters are cramped in the son's home they've decided to stay at a motel. Also, to give them maximum sight-seeing freedom—the redwoods on the Coast are gorgeous at this time of year—the Joneses want to rent a car. And they are going to fly out.

SO THEY drop in at the local travel agent's office, tell him the kind of room they want, that they want it for 10 days, that they want to rent a car during their stay, and they also want him to take care of their first-class plane tickets.

As they watch, the travel agent starts punching the keyboard of a digital message encoder—a reservations computer terminal, in layman's language. His query travels over leased lines to Telemax's computer center in Fairfield, N.J. There it queries the computer for the rooms, and for a rental car. Back comes the answer: The Joneses are registered for 10 days at the motel, and when their plane arrives at Los Angeles Airport, a car will be awaiting them. All this took five seconds.

ADD A few more seconds, as the travel agent punches a few more keys on the Telemax terminal, and their first-class, round-trip tickets are confirmed to Los Angeles and return 10 days later.

Lucas explains that the Univac 494 computer, which nailed down the Jones' reservations in seconds, where it used to take hours, maybe even days, to get wires out to the coast and back again, accomplished the seeming miracle because it operates in millions of a second.

"Telemax has more than 75,000 miles of leased lines all over the United States, including Honolulu, and to Canada and Puerto Rico, to which hotels, motels, rent-a-car offices and airlines are connected as well as travel agents," Lucas noted. "We also plan to hook up a leased cable to Europe by the year's end, to give Americans—and vice versa, Europeans—who want to travel to the United States—the same virtually instantaneous travel reservation service they now get in this country."

Telemax stores information in its Fairfield computers for more than 350,000 rooms and more than 80,000 rent-a-cars. It also has developed a travel agent airline availability system for airlines that carry passengers all over the world. This system will provide economical storage for airline reservations and easy access to these for travel agents and prospective passengers.

TO FURTHER serve millions of American travelers, Telemax has developed a central telephone sales office in Omaha, Neb. This provides toll-free telephone service (800-228-9290) from anywhere in continental United States.

Upon receiving a request for hotel and car rentals, the Telemax telephone staff in Omaha queries the computers in Fairfield through a battery of cathode ray terminals and receives instantaneous response. This means any of the 200 million telephones in the United States can be used to get this automated service, without paying a toll.

Lucas envisions an almost limitless future for the computer, not only in the travel reservation business, but in virtually all other businesses, as well as in our personal lives. Regarding the latter, Lucas says before the decade is much older, the computer will enable the American housewife to do most of her local food and similar shopping via her phone.

ALSO IT will help her son pick out the college for which he is most eligible and which has the courses he wants to take; a computer will enable your doctor to diagnose your illness quicker and more accurately; it will guide you, for the price you want to spend, to the vacation you want to take.

And it will make it possible immediately to ascertain where to go in your local department store to get your shoes, your wife's dress, your son's toys, etc., and how much they'll cost—plus automatic and accurate billing when you make your purchases.

"By the end of the 1970s," Lucas predicts, "it will be No. 1 among American industries, even bigger than the automobile business."

He said his agency will spend about one-third of a million dollars this year to research into the effects of drug residues in meat.
